Please note: Due to the structure of certain database records, information may occasionally be imported into incorrect fields within your EndNote library. These need to be edited manually.

Known Problems:

- Inconsistant layout of author names. Some names are imported "first name|space last|name"; whereas others are imported "last name|space|first name". Some author names are in capitals. Editing of these entries may be necessary.
- The "year" field is not filled. The information on the year of publication tends to transfer across into the "date" field
- The references exported from the database give the starting page number only for each article.
- Magazine articles import as the reference type "Journal Article"
- For Newspaper Articles, the Author field will often contain extraneous information, which should be removed after import.
